Hoover High School will host a Career Fair where local employers and post-secondary partners will showcase opportunities for students. This year, Hoover will also highlight its career pathway programs as a way to recruit students to join a pathway next school year.

A district CTE Advisory Board meeting is also taking place at Hoover from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m., giving industry representatives a chance to support and visit with students at the Career Fair prior to the meeting.

“Thanks to our many industry and college partners, our students at Hoover will have the opportunity to learn more about jobs and post-secondary options,” said Superintendent Bob Nelson.
