Community Members Help Bullard Seniors with Interview Techniques

What: Community and business partners will conduct mock interviews with Bullard seniors and critique their performance

When: Thursday, Feb. 28, 2019 – Mayor Lee Brand part of mock interview panel 1 p.m.

Where: Bullard High School – library conference room
5445 N. Palm Ave. (93704)

Community and business partners are volunteering to be on panels to conduct mock interviews with all 600 Bullard High School seniors as if they were applying for jobs or internships. Following the interviews, the volunteers will provide feedback to better prepare students for the real world of work. The interviews are part of a Senior Resume Project with support from the Parent Teacher Student Association. Interviews will start Feb. 27 and continue for seven weeks to provide an opportunity for all seniors to participate.

“We are extremely grateful to the mayor and other community partners who will help our Bullard seniors learn how to do their best in an interview setting as they prepare to move on to college, work and other challenges,” said Superintendent Bob Nelson.
