The conference will also offer a variety of workshops for parents targeting a range of grades, as well as activities for students. The theme of the conference this year is “Celebrating our Bilingual and Biliterate Children.”

Fresno Unified offers dual language immersion programs in Spanish at Burroughs, Calwa, Centennial, Ewing, Jackson, Lane, Leavenworth, Roeding, Rowell and Sunset elementary schools; Wawona School (kindergarten and first grades); Yosemite Middle School; and McLane High School. It also offers a Hmong dual language immersion program at Vang Pao Elementary School.

“Through our dual language programs, our students have the opportunity to be bilingual and bicultural, and highly marketable as they head toward college and careers,” said Superintendent Bob Nelson.
