Students from the Adult Transition Program (ATP) are collaborating with students from nearby Tioga Middle School to host a talent show featuring ATP students. The show will provide an opportunity for the two schools to work together and learn from each other.

ATP provides training, support and an educational program for adults 18-22 with developmental disabilities, with the goal of helping them become as independent and self-sufficient as possible. Leadership students from Tioga will be assisting ATP students with the show.

“By working together on the talent show, students from ATP and Tioga will learn a great deal about each other and create relationships they will always treasure. What a great collaboration,” said Superintendent Bob Nelson.
