Duncan Polytechnical High School will continue its beloved tradition of honoring the victims of 9/11 as well as local first responders, although this year the event will be held virtually. Speakers will include Fresno County Sheriff Margaret Mims. The event will also highlight local first responders' memories of where they were on 9/11.

“As with so many of our events this year, Duncan’s ceremony to honor the events of 9/11 will have a different look. But the goal and sentiment remain the same, with Duncan leadership and ROTC students focused on honoring the victims of the horrific events of that day,” said Superintendent Bob Nelson.
